

Human Trafficking: Sharing Women's Stories from the Philippines

Over 500,000 Filipino women and children are trafficked for sexual exploitation every year. The lives of these survivors are forever impacted, and now we invite you to hear their stories.

Listen to Marietta (Mayet) Latonio, Filipino social worker, women's advocate, researcher and Professor at the University of Southern Philippines Foundation, tell the stories of those who have been trafficked for sexual exploitation—and survived.

Mayet is speaking in Perth at a free event on June 25.

Mayet has helped conduct research in the Philippines with female victims and survivors of human trafficking - she is coming to Nedlands in Perth to share these stories with us. You will hear her unique insights into their lives and the significance of having been trafficked.

Mayet and Australian Sister of Mercy Dr Angela Reed recently published their ground-breaking book, I Have A Voice, Trafficked Women -in their own words.

The book focusses on the lives of 40 trafficked women in the Philippines and the sinister and structural oppression of young women on which the sex trade thrives.

Mayet's Perth visit, supported by ACRATH (Australian Catholic Religious Against Trafficking in Humans) is a fundraising event and all money raised will be given to the Good Shepherd Welcome House, which serves women and children who are survivors of sex trafficking and prostitution in Cebu City, Philippines. We invite you to consider making a donation on the night.
